This week, we have been writing a non-chronological report about Skara Brae.

For your home learning this week we would like you write a non-chronological report about a subject of your choice. You could make a non-chronological report about an animal, a place or a sport. Choose anything that interests you!

Use the checklist below to help you to structure your non-chronological report:

	Topic title covers the whole subject.		Non-chronological reports use factual language .
	Brief introduction paragraph gives who/what/where overview.		Present tense verbs (unless it is a historical report, then it would be past tense).
	The information is organised into paragraphs .		Technical language may be explained in a glossary.
	Each category has a sub-heading .		Third person makes it impersonal.
	Some information may be in fact boxes or bullet-point lists.		Non-chronological reports have a formal tone .
	Extra details support the main points.		General language , not particular examples.
